Prepare backup plans. Flights will be canceled on the 6th due to Corona Virus. If you can't get there on your own, you might not make it.

Competent pedes with trustworthy backgrounds should run MAGA buses. We have a whole month. Lets finally prove that that we're more organized than Antifa.

*Edit: Ryanaissance suggested they might close down the hotels too.

Update:

Here's 1 caravan already organized. It's sleek. We need some copy cats for other states.

<https://thedonald.win/p/11R4ucQt9Q/organizing-caravan-for-dc-marchi/c/>

You don't need to lead the caravan, only organize. Leaders get picked out at the first meeting or en route. Once the ball gets rolling, strong leaders naturally come out of the woodwork ready to take charge. Getting people there to begin with is what's important. Any of us memespammers can do that.

Many women may be better off at the smaller local events, unless they are veterans or at least have weapons and self defense training. We would be easy marks/potential hostages and get in the way of the mission. It isn't the place for the average woman or any children. And, yes, I'm a female pede - the guy who said for us to stay home and was downvoted was 100% right.

But this is NOT a rally! It's a show of force and intimidation to the DC rats who want to disenfranchise us and supplant their fraudulent candidate into the world's most powerful position. This should also be viewed as an occupation, not a one day rally. The left knows we always leave the place clean, pack up and go home the next day.

And that is why we always fail.

Wintertime cross country driving can be a hassle if the weather doesn't cooperate. Take a longer look at the southern route. Aside from the better weather and less ice, You don't have to traverse Illinois & Pennsylvania going via route 10, 20 & 30. Texas is friendlier territory, plus everything is less expensive across the south route, gas in Texas is gonna be $1.50 /gallon less than Illinois. I like the north route in the summer for the increased daylight, but in the winter the south wins in that respect too. If you do end up having to drive though Illinois, gas up in Iowa before you cross the border and don't stop anywhere until you've made it to Indiana.

Here's a tip for my ground-based pedes. Get your physician to prescribe you alprazolam. Take a few micrograms about 30 mins prior to boarding. You won't remember the next few hours.

Ask for enough to get you through the flight home too.

Make sure to keep your gas topped up through Nevada and Utah. Drove the I-70 from DC to Vegas before, and there was a stretch in Utah with literally nothing for 150+ miles. All federal land and all desert. The restroom at a rest stop was a latrine.

It looks like you are taking a different interstate than I did so I am not sure if you will encounter this, just be aware it is possible. Don't get stranded out there. You will have a very bad time

For what it's worth.. I used to be absolutely terrified of flying. When I had to fly I would start panicking weeks before the flight.. I would have nightmares. So I married a European 10 years ago and have since flown 25 transatlantic flights and near 50 other smaller flights. And now I'm almost to the point where I enjoy flying. I actually look forward to it a bit. (Small disclaimer: I do usually have a wine or 2 on the flights and it helps) Point is.. there is hope

From a 2/11/74 Time magazine article:

Gerald Ford had a case of it tucked away in his luggage when he returned to Washington last month from a vice-presidential skiing trip to Colorado. President Eisenhower had his own steady supply airlifted to the White House aboard an Air Force plane. Actor Paul Newman refuses to be seen drinking any other brand on the screen. Until a court made him stop, Frederick Amon, 24, used to drive a refrigerated truckload every week from Denver to Charlotte, N.C., where he sold it to restaurants and country clubs for as much as...

North Dakota pede here. If you're from the west coast and you've never been through a blizzard on the high plains, you might be caught off guard at how bad they can be.

You can easily die in the comfort of your own car in many horrendous ways.

Complete white outs, feet of blowing snow drifts, and 70-100mph winds are normal. They're not something you want to fuck around with. I would avoid Wyoming at all costs.
